As a member of the staff of the Hewlett-Packard Educational Users' Group, I would like to introduce myself and our publication, the Newsletter (sample copy enclosed).

One of the objectives of the Newsletter is to provide practical, functional and interesting references for our subscribers. As the majority of our 4000 readers are educators, concerned with computers in education, our book reviews will be devoted to this area.

We would like to ask your assistance in this endeavor by making available to us a complimentary review copy of the following book which has recently come to our attention.

Computer Lib by Theodor Nelson

Thanking you in advance for your consideration, I am,

Very truly yours,
